Quote Analysis Chart for Summer Reading 2024
Quote Charts due: August 27, 2024

Objective: Students will prepare for their in-class assessment by annotating the text with purpose, identifying quotes, and analyzing those quotes for their usefulness in answering the essential question. THESE CHARTS WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED LATE.

Directions: Write your essential question in the box below. You are to read your text with this question in mind. Focus on this question throughout your reading, and when you read a portion of the text that you feel will help answer/address the question, record it using the chart. Then, you will explain the context surrounding your chosen quote and analyze its usefulness in responding to the essential question (How/Why does it help you answer/address the question) You are required to have three quotes with analysis from each of your texts.

Essential Question (copy from the Summer Reading assignment page)

Title and author of your fiction/nonfiction text:

Version, name, and abbreviation for your book of the Bible:

Please remember to correctly cite the quotes you pull for your chart. A friendly reminder about citation:

Fiction and nonfiction are cited using (author'slastname pagenumber).

Example: (Salinger 19) (Bradbury 45)

The Bible is cited using the version of the Bible (abbreviated if necessary), the book of the Bible (Abbreviated) and the chapter and verse numbers are separated by a period.

Example: (ESV Bible, Gen. 5.2) (NIV Bible, John 3.16)
